Celebrating culture

SARAH FERGUSON Fort Erie Times

The Fort Erie Native Friendship Centre hosted the 19th annual Mid-Winter Pow Wow on Saturday. The event, which featured drummers, singers and dancers, saw more than 100 people celebrate their heritage through song and dance.

Part of pier destroyed

Portion of Crystal Beach pier demolished due to safety concerns

Sarah Ferguson
Fort Erie Times

Rumours swirling that the old pier at Crystal Beach is being completely demolished aren't true according to Brian Clewes of the Crystal Beach Tennis and Yacht Club.

People walking along Crystal Beach couldn't help but stop to notice a small construction crew working on the old pier last week.

"But there is nothing further from the truth," Clewes said.

"We have no intention of ripping out the covered part of the pier. We use it," Clewes said.

"It was the part beyond the covered pier that is very dangerous," he added.

Clewes said the yacht club has removed part of the pier that it owns for safety reasons.

"For years, we've been trying to contact the government to see who owns part of the pier where a young man died a couple of years ago."

Part of pier in 'great state of disrepair'

In 2012, 18 year-old Clayton Wismer died after climbing a flagpole on the pier and falling about 10 metres to the concrete below.

Clewes said the area where the youth fell was in "a great state of disrepair" and the yacht club wanted to remove it.

"It's unbelievable how dangerous it is under the water with rebar sticking out," he said.

Clewes said the Ministry of Natural Resources "finally admitted about a month ago" they control the end of pier.

The yacht club owns the double-decker part and 100 feet of the uncovered pier. Once ownership of the pier was more clearly defined, Clewes said the yacht club set out on the process to have part of the uncovered portion of the pier removed.

"It's a very complicated process," Clewes said, which involves working with the Ministry of Natural Resources, the Niagara Region Conservation Authority and Fisheries and Oceans Canada.

Clewes said the work has been completed and the construction crew, Crown Landscaping, removed leftover debris Monday.

MNR spokeswoman Jolanta Kowalski said the ministry owns "the outermost portion," of the pier, which consists of about 80 metres of the pier.

Kowalski said the club recently notified the MNR of its decision to demolish their portion of the pier because of safety concerns and the organization was issued a permit to complete the work.

"Since the private owner decided they were going to do that (demolish their portion of the pier), we're also in the process of removing the other part of the pier under our management," she added.

Due to the cold weather, Clewes said the Lake Erie is frozen to the bottom of the lake which gave the construction crew an ice path to the part of the pier that was removed.

"This is the first time in 50 years the lake has been completely frozen like it is. We've had luck with the ice,"

Clewes said.

"It would have cost several hundred thousand dollars to rent a barge to get the heavy equipment out," he added.

District Fire Chief Doug Atkins is pleased to see part of the pier removed for the public's safety.

"I'd be glad to see the whole thing go," he said.

"We've been out there in our boat and we chase them (people) off the pier. When we're gone, they climb right back on it," Atkins added.

RETAIL BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY FOR AN AGENCY STORE IN STEVENSVILLE, LCBO RFP #2014-101 STEVENSVILLE

An excellent business opportunity is now available to established retailers in Stevensville.

The Liquor Control Board of Ontario (LCBO) is seeking a responsible, customer-focused retailer to operate an LCBO Agency Store in Stevensville.

To qualify, the applicant must have an existing, currently operating retail business in the community and commit to operating the Agency store within established LCBO guidelines. To facilitate the sale of beverage alcohol products, the operator may be required to enter into separate commercial arrangements with the LCBO and domestic beer suppliers. The successful applicant will also be required to participate in a special LCBO server training program to ensure the responsible sale of beverage alcohol products.

Since 1962, the LCBO has authorized more than 200 Agency stores to serve communities that have requested service but where the local population is too small to support a regular LCBO or beer store. These Agency stores are operated by local retailers within their existing retail businesses. Agency store contracts are normally awarded for a five-year term. In communities where there is currently an Agency store, as the contract years expiry, the LCBO will take into consideration the fact that new businesses in the community may have been established and will allow an opportunity for all businesses in the community to compete for the next five-year term.

Operating an LCBO Agency Store provides a retailer with an excellent opportunity to increase revenue and attract customers while providing local residents with beverage alcohol services. Agency stores also deliver economic benefits to the community in many cases through job creation and increased customer traffic for local merchants.

Interested businesses must request by mail the application package for this competition before end of business day, Friday, March 14, 2014 and must quote the following information:

Please note: An application fee of $100 must be included with your request in order to receive an application package. Make the cheque or money order payable to the LCBO only.

In order to be considered for this business opportunity, applicants must submit to LCBO Procurement and Contract Management a completed proposal in the required format before the closing date and time, Friday, March 28, 2014, 3 p.m. local time. Late submissions will not be accepted and will be returned unopened.

Keyvani knows the recipe for success

Sarah Ferguson
Fort Erie Times

There is nothing Afshin Keyvani loves more than to see his students succeed.

When he began teaching the culinary program at Fort Erie Secondary School, Keyvani wanted to find a way to teach students what it is like to work in a professional high-end restaurant.

That's why Keyvani took a chance and opened the Pomegranate Restaurant in the school's cafeteria.

During the day, it looks just like any other ordinary classroom. But every Wednesday night, the classroom is transformed into a classy restaurant, which serves gourmet meals.

Each week, the restaurant is opened to the public, serving anywhere from 40 to 50 people which is a big feat for more than 30 high school students that prepare the meals.

Keyvani said his success depends upon his students, and without them, the Pomegranate Restaurant wouldn't be what it is—one of Fort Erie's best kept secrets.

The students at the school's culinary program often have their tasty work featured in the community as they cater many special events for non-profit organizations and local businesses.

"They have to learn a sense of the community and be compassionate," Keyvani said.

"I'm always willing to give my time and I try to teach the students that they should also do the same," he added.

The culinary teacher was recently recognized for his dedication to his students and the community when he was presented with the Lincoln Fabrics Lt. teacher award at the Business Education Council of Niagara annual partners breakfast at the Marriott Gateway in Niagara Falls.

The Times sat down with Keyvani and talked to him about his career and his accomplishments.

Question: How did you feel when you learned you had won the award for best teacher of the year.

Answer: It was a complete surprise. Suddenly they announced my name and as I was getting the award, it was emotional.

Q: Did you ever think you would be recognized as one of the best teachers?
A: No, I never thought about it.

Q: Why did you decide to open the Pomegranate Restaurant at FESS?

A: When I started the Pomegranate, I did it because

SARAH FERGUSON Fort Erie Times
Fort Erie Secondary School culinary teacher Afshin Keyvani, who recently received the Lincoln Fabrics Lt. teacher award, credits the success of the school's resident to his students.

I wanted to create an opportunity for students to train.

The Pomegranate started in February about seven years ago and no one thought it would work besides the principal who believed in the idea. I had to beg people to take on the restaurant.

Q: What gave you the idea to open a student-run restaurant?

A: I always had it in the back of my mind. I had a dream that I never thought would happen, especially the way it has.

Q: When you decided to open the Pomegranate was there a lot of skepticism about whether or not it would succeed?

A: I talked to my principal about it. Because he thought it was a good idea, he backed me up and set me up financially to purchase the proper furniture like tables and the cutlery we needed. It was all commitment. After this stage, it wasn't that hard to run the restaurant because it was all about the students.

Q: It must have been difficult to open the restaurant. How did it become so successful?

A: News about the restaurant began to spread by word of mouth and by the end of the first year, we were booked every Wednesday.

Q: Are you ever surprised by the success of the restaurant?
A: It's busy but I'm not surprised because of what the kids are capable of. They actually fight to work at the Pomegranate.

Q: For someone who has never heard of the Pomegranate before, what do you think his or her reaction is when they learn about it.
A: At first, when they hear about it, they shrug and think it's just a high school program. But when they see it, they are actually blown away.

Q: Why did you want to become a teacher?

A: I wanted to become a teacher because of my family. My dad was a professor and he taught for more than 30 years, and my uncle was also a professor. I saw how they changed peoples' lives. I think that my father and my uncle were the best role models.

Q: Where did you go to school?

A: I went to Brock University and I have a master's in political science and I have a diploma in hospitality from Niagara College. I continued my education and studied in New Hampshire and I worked at the Marriott Hotel in Boston.

Q: Why did you want to become a culinary teacher?

A: I always had a passion for political science. I had to go to university to get an education and it's what I loved. I enjoy teaching my students and I think my passion for both political science and culinary skills motivates my students to go to school.

Mark Lewis

Volunteer firefighter will be remembered for his service

Sarah Ferguson
Fort Erie Times

Mark Lewis didn't serve as a volunteer firefighter for the Town of Fort Erie for very long, but he left a large impact on the community.

"The total amount of his time (serving for Fire Station 3) was maybe six months," Captain Ed Melanson said. "But he had such heart and he was so courageous," he added.

Lewis was 31 when he was diagnosed with a rare form of cancer known as Angiosarcoma in 2011.

He lost his battle with cancer on Thursday, Feb. 27. Melanson only worked with Lewis for a short time, but he has never met anyone else like him.

"I've never met anyone with as much heart and will as (Mark)," Melanson said.

"He had two little boys and a lovely wife. He lived as long as he could," Melanson added.

He described Lewis as "a great guy" with "a great sense of humour."

Melanson said Lewis knew his battle with cancer was grim, but "there was no way (Lewis) would give in"

Melanson said Lewis was committed to his children, Tyson and Carter, and his wife Aleksha so he sought every treatment possible to live long as he could for his family.

"He didn't want to go. Would we all do everything that he's done? I don't know," Melanson said.

"It would have been easy to roll over and say I'd had enough but he never did."

Lewis began his employment at the Roy McMurtry Youth Centre in Brampton in 2010. It was the same year that he also began training to become a volunteer firefighter in Fort Erie.

"He worked from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. and then he would drive to Fort Erie and do nine to 10 hours of training for the Fort Erie Fire Department," Melanson said.

What Lewis loved the most was his family.

"He once said to me, 'I just want to make sure my boys were proud of me,'" Melanson said.

A funeral was held for Lewis at Marshall's Funeral Home, in Richmond Hill on Tuesday.

Have your voice heard in the discussion about education

It's never an easy decision to close a school, but sometimes a school closure can open a new world of possibilities for students.

Three schools in Fort Erie's west end—Bertie Public School, Ridgeway Public School and Crystal Beach Public School—are nearing the end of an Accommodation Review.

During last Wednesday's ARC meeting at Bertie Public School, councilors John Hill and Don Lubberts presented the Town's offer to the committee to donate about three acres of land on Rebstock Rd., near the Crystal Ridge Community Centre.

If the District School Board of Niagara accepts the offer, it means the students from all three schools would be consolidated into the new one.

The Town approved the decision to offer the land during its council meeting last week to try and encourage the school board to build a new school.

While it would be sad to see all three schools go, consolidating all the students into one school would give youth more opportunity to participate in sports and recreational activities they might not otherwise have. A newly constructed school would also give children more access to advanced technology.

Declining enrolment in elementary schools is a reality that most communities are struggling with.

Consolidating the students into a new school would allow them to come together and it would unify the community in a more central location.

Whether the committee decides to accept the Town's offer, or they choose another option, it's important that the community has its say about what is to be done with the three schools up for review.

The final ARC meeting is scheduled for Thursday night at Bertie Public School at 6 p.m.

letters to the editor

Changes beginning to affect Canada Post users

Dear Editor,

Canada Post's cutbacks are now starting to hit homes and communities across Canada. About 100,000 households will no longer receive door-to-door delivery and this is just the beginning.

If Canada Post and the Conservatives get their way, seniors and the disabled will be increasingly isolated in their homes and at risk for injury.

The vandalism, identity theft and break-ins that are rife with so-called community mailboxes will be an everyday reality for all of us. Individuals, municipalities, small businesses and non-profit organizations will face steep hikes to postage rates and postal services at retail stores will be eroded as private franchise outlets take over.

It's a national disgrace that we are becoming the first G7 country without door-to-door delivery and that a basic public service is being cut when better options exist.

Canada Post relies on a steady stream of misinformation to ensure Canadians' compliance with its plan.

Many members of the public mistakenly believe that their taxes support Canada Post.

In fact, the post office has seen consistent profits in the last 18 years, with the exception of 2011.

Many Canadians also think that nobody sends letters or uses the mail anymore.

In fact, parcel volumes are at an all-time high and many still depend on the mail for conducting business. We should remember that Canada Post's mandate is not to generate dizzying profits for shareholders.

It is to serve the public, like the armed forces and firefighters. We do not expect these services to be lucrative. They are there because we need them.

Canada Post senior executives are claiming their way is the only way. But there is another way to go—a way that the United States is contemplating and other countries have already adopted with success. It's an old idea that should be given a fresh start.

We need a postal bank in this country. In fact, Canada Post senior executives conducted a secret internal banking study for four years and are now refusing to reveal the results to the public, while the Conservatives dodge questions in the House about this study.

As the real owners of Canada Post, we should be asking them: what do you have to hide?

Jennifer Young
President, Canadian Postal Workers Union Local 536

Library will keep the kids busy during March Break

Amy Roebuck
Fort Erie Public Library

When the family car is heading down the QEW or along the Niagara Blvd., and a hawk, an owl or an eagle is spotted, do passengers stop to stare and follow the flight of these magnificent creatures?

If so, a March Break visit from the Canadian Raptor Conservancy is sure to be a hit.

The Raptor Conservancy is an organization that specializes in birds of prey, and in educating the public about the important role these birds play in our natural world. Experts from this organization with more than twenty years' experience in rehabilitating raptors and in raising awareness will be at the Crystal Ridge branch of the Fort Erie Public Library at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, March 11, and will offer a second presentation at the Centennial branch at 2 p.m.

Admission is $2 to see these birds of prey up close and in person.

The Raptor Conservancy is just one of more than a dozen March Break programs being offered for children, young people and their families next week. The movie "Frozen" will be screened from March 7 through March 10 at the Centennial branch.

There will be Maker Spaces, Lego Maker Clubs, Papercraft and Knitting for kids to explore their creative side, and fun with a Stuffed Animal Sleepover, a Will Just Dance party and an NHL 14 Xbox tournament.

Check the website www.fecpla.com for more information, or pick up a newsletter at any branch.

Raptors are not the only creatures in the library spotlight this coming week.

Laura Arseneau is the owner of Four Paws Wellness, a new Niagara based service for pets and their human companions which seeks to rebalance mind, body and spirit in order to promote healing and wellness.

Touch therapy in the form of canine massage is a relatively new field in Canada, and Laura, a certified canine body worker, will be demonstrating this method at the Centennial branch of the library on Wednesday evening, March 12, beginning at 7 p.m. Deep tissue work and stretching is effective in treating canine arthritis, lameness issues, post-surgical healing, and it also alleviates stress and anxiety.

Massage will help to improve circulation and the animal's coat and renew your pet's energy and pleasure in life.

If you are coming to the Canine Massage program, please bring along a stuffed toy dog or animal for practice. Live pets are not invited to this session.

If your income is limited to $30,000 a year and your tax situation is simple, there are clinics available at the library during the months of March and April to help you complete your taxes. Volunteers trained and approved by the Canada Revenue Agency's Community Volunteer Income Tax Program will be on hand to prepare and submit your taxes. There is no charge for this service, but help is by appointment only.

Call either the Crystal Ridge or Centennial branches for more information.

Diane was a little ahead of me just past a snowy strip where sand was exposed.

There was no stoned trail back then. We both stopped at the visible footprints.

My drawing shows the unusual black footprint of an opossum.

Beaver tracks anyone? We heard about beavers on the Niagara Parkway near Chippawa.

On the riverside, a few trees had been gnawed down. Across the road in the wetlands more beaver work tracks? None visible. I have seen beavers and their homes several times.

A local naturalist pointed out the rear prints of a muskrat to me. He said the beaver's look the same only larger. He was right.

Rick Doan was on an ATV out on the lake ice lately.

He saw animal tracks on the snowy surface. His friend told him that they were a fox's. Sure enough nature photographer Rick sent me a photo by a friend of a Red fox meandering on the snowy surface.

Check the straight line tracks. Don't ask me why a fox was on the lake.

Follow the tracks. Wild Turkey tracks? Yes. Off High Rd. I believe on the late Ted Jewson's property was a flock of thirty plus wild turkeys.

Follow them? We did. The familiar three large toe prints were there.

Easy to follow, we approached the woods and they disappeared. I believe the flock had found refuge resting on the lower branches of the many trees. The tracks had suddenly stopped. We stopped too. Let them have a safe refuge for now.

Many of us grew up following rabbit tracks. In the field to the west of our Garrison Road home one spring there was a light snow covering. It was perfect tracking time.

I followed some strange tracks. With my head down, a skunk reared up and let go.

The spray missed me. Not really.

If you know skunk spray even just a few tiny particles hit your clothing and you stink. It did. Be alert in tracking and enjoy the outdoors.

Fort Erie natives worked behind the scene in Sochi

Sarah Ferguson
Fort Erie Times

Fort Erie native Ryan LeBlanc watched top athletes from around the world compete for gold.

The 24-year-old, who graduated from Niagara College's Electrical Engineering Technology program in 2011, received the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity when he spent five weeks in Russia working as a field support engineer to provide technical support for the Olympic broadcasting systems during the 2014 Winter Olympic Games.

"I work for a company called Evertz Microsystems and I was given the opportunity to go to Sochi to work," LeBlanc said.

After traveling more than 12 hours on a plane, LeBlanc said he didn't know what to expect to see when he arrived.

The best part of the experience for LeBlanc was "experiencing a different culture."

"When I got to the hotel, it wasn't much different than most places at home. There were some minor inconveniences. They didn't have certain things like wifi but for the most part, it looked like any other hotel," LeBlanc said.

When he set out to work, LeBlanc said the atmosphere in Sochi was different than back home in Burlington.

"It was an awe-inspiring experience. The sheer scale of the event and the fact that it's put on every two years between the winter and summer months is amazing," he said.

The trip was LeBlanc's first time visiting Russia and it's an experience LeBlanc said he is grateful for.

"The Russians are very good people," LeBlanc said. "They have a strong sense of pride and they were proud of hosting the Olympic Games," he added.

Watching the Olympics from the sidelines is an interesting experience, LeBlanc said, because countries cheer each other on.

"There really was this atmosphere of friendship and everyone cheered for everyone. The Olympics were an opportunity for countries to put their problems aside and focus on competition," he said.

LeBlanc credits his successful to his hard work, dedication and the education he received from Niagara College.

"I would say to other people who are younger than me to work hard and keep an open mind when they are looking for jobs," he said.

"You never know where you will go," he added.

Help teens dress in style

Local youth can find formal attire for prom and graduation for free through Prom Project Niagara

Sarah Ferguson
Fort Erie Times

Youth on a budget can look fashionable and trendy with help from Prom Project Niagara.

"Sometimes families find it hard to pay for the little extras," said Fort Erie Kinnettes member Kelly Kendrick.

That's why the Kinnettes Club started the Diva On A Dime project last year and collected as many dresses and accessories as they could to dress Fort Erie's youth in style free of charge.

The Kinnettes Club helped dress three local students from head-to-toe with accessories, makeup and clothing.

"We didn't even know the Prom Project existed at that point," Kendrick said.

When the Kinnettes Club approached a local dry cleaning business and asked them if they would be interested in volunteering their services for Diva On A Dime, Kendrick said the club learned about Prom Project Niagara, which is now in its seventh year.

"When we learned about the Prom Project, we made a lot of connections that helped us out," Kendrick said.

This year, Kendrick hopes to raise awareness for Prom Project Niagara.

"We will have everything students need right here in Fort Erie," she said.

Students in need are asked to visit Fort Erie Secondary School on May 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Through the project, students are able to pick an outfit for graduation or prom and have their makeup and hair done. Each outfit will also be dry-cleaned.

As a single mom, Kendrick said she knows how difficult it can be for families to affordable formal attire.

Who: Education Foundation of Niagara

What: Prom Project Niagara

When: Saturday, May 10

Where: Fort Erie Secondary School

Why: To help youth find formal attire for graduation and prom

SARAH FERGUSON Fort Erie Times

From left, Fort Erie Kinnettes members Kelly Kendrick and Eileen George display some of the dresses youth will be able to choose to wear to prom or graduation free of charge through Prom Project Niagara.

It's nearly impossible to find formal clothing and shoes in Fort Erie, so Kendrick wants to provide an opportunity to find an outfit without having to travel out of town.

Donations of dresses are greatly appreciated. Kendrick said there is also a great need for men's clothing including suits, shoes, belts, ties and shirts.

Kendrick is also putting a call out to businesses and individuals who can assist with makeup, hair-styles, corsages and dress alterations.

Donations can be dropped off in Fort Erie at Community Credit Union, 201 Jarvis St., Community Credit Union, 1202 Garrison Rd., Pike Dry Cleaners, 93 Jarvis St., and Lightyears Dry Cleaners, 388 King St., in Port Colborne.

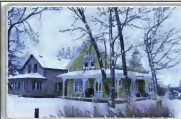

For more information about Prom Project Niagara call 905-894-4655 or 289-686-2467.

Hate potholes? So do we!

The Infrastructure Services team has been repairing potholes as quickly as possible. We'd like to ask for your understanding as we try to keep up with the demand. We utilize a product of cold-mix asphalt to repair potholes. If the initial repair is conducted in cold, damp weather, reapplication may be necessary as this material adheres much better in warm, dry weather. Potholes on main arterial roads will be repaired first, followed by those on secondary streets on a priority basis. Some local roadways are under the jurisdiction of the Region of Niagara, the Niagara Parks Commission (NPC) and/or the Ministry of Transportation (MTO). If you know the road is the jurisdiction of the Region, NPC or MTO, please contact them directly.

What can you do?

- Reduce your speed and drive with caution. Avoid standing water or puddles if you can, they may be covering a hidden pothole
- Call us at 905-871-1600 (Monday to Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.) to report a pothole on residential streets

Did you know?

Potholes are common in late winter and early spring when a series of freeze-thaw cycles occur. Water reaches the road base through voids in the asphalt and freezes in cold temperatures. When water freezes it expands and when the ice melts it leaves voids beneath the surface. With every freeze-thaw cycle that occurs these voids grow larger. When traffic passes over the sections of pavement with voids underneath the pavement collapses creating a pothole.

Stevensville students begin basketball season 'with a bang'

Stevensville Public School Special to The Times

There have been lots of things happening at Stevensville Public School. Our intermediate boys and girls basketball season began with a bang.

Both teams went undefeated, winning all of their five games in January.

Thank you to Mr. Saylor and Mr. Kells for coaching the teams. They now head into the play-offs and we wish them good luck.

Mr. Train coached our co-ed soccer team which features students in Grades 4 to 6.

About 14 students played in a tournament. They defeated Forestview, James Morden and Cherrywood Acres Schools, before losing in the championship game 1-0 to Prince Phillip.

The team finished runner-up in the District School Board of Niagara tournament.

Thanks to Mr. Train for his great coaching and congratulations Rehearsals for our upcoming production of The Wizard of Oz is in full swing. Mrs. Kruttschke and Mrs.

VanderKlei are busy teaching the dancing and musical part of the show. We are excited to see the finished product. Watch for upcoming dates.

Mrs. Hennessey and Mrs. Dunn took the Grade 1 and 2 students on a trip to The Superstore.

Students learned how to make their own pizzas. All of the students had a wonderful cooking lesson and then enjoyed eating their creations.

Mrs. Milton and Mrs. McNeill began their Magic Kindness Cookie campaign.

Special chocolate dipped Oreos went on sale to help raise money to bring an Anti-Bullying Magic Show to our school. We received many donations of cookies and chocolate from parents and staff.

Thanks so much to all who donated. The cookie campaign continues into February.

The students also enjoyed special Olympic events, Valentine events in February.

RINGWORM

Ringworm is a common name for fungal skin infections. These types of infections are also referred to as tinea. They affect approximately 10% to 20% of the population. Ringworm appears as rings or round red patches with clear centers and red, scaly borders. Tinea can affect the scalp, nails, or skin.

Management for superficial fungal infections involves some simple non-drug methods, and over-the-counter remedies in the form of sprays lotions and creams. Affected individuals should try to reduce moisture in the affected area. Loose-fitted clothing made of cotton or material that absorbs moisture should be worn. The skin should be dried completely before covering with clothing. If the infection involves the feet, flip flops should be worn with bare feet to prevent spread to others and reinfection.

There are also many topical antifungal agents available. Examples include CANESTEN CREAM (clotrimazole), NIZORAL SHAMPOO (ketconazole), and MONISTAT-DERM (miconazole), to name a few. Creams and solutions are useful because they can be rubbed into the area. Solutions work in water or because they are easier to apply. Powders can serve as useful additions to creams and solutions. They are helpful when the infection is hairy or oozing, or where a drying agent is needed. When applying the antifungal product it should be applied to the lesion as well as one to two inches around the lesion. The antifungal should also be used for one to two weeks after lesions clear to reduce the rate of recurrence.

Patients who have diabetes, or those who are immunosuppressed may need prescription oral therapy. It is best for your doctor to assess these fungal infections. Fungal infections of the nail are also resistant to over-the-counter treatment.

There are some home remedies for treating nail fungus. Patients have tried applying VICKS VAPORUB and tea tree oil. There is not a lot of evidence to suggest the efficacy of these products for this condition, however some people may wish to try them before resorting to an oral medication.

If you think you may be affected by a fungal infection there are a number of treatment options available. Most issues can be resolved with some persistence and the proper product. Please speak to your pharmacist about what option is best for you.

Niagara Region

Niagara events make top 100 list

Several of Niagara's signature events have ranked in Festivals and Events Ontario's annual list of the best celebrations in the province.

Claiming spots in the 2014 list of Top 100 Festivals and Events in Ontario are Canal Days Marine Heritage Festival in Port Colborne, Niagara Wine Festival in St. Catharines, Winter Festival of Lights in Niagara Falls and Friendship Festival in Fort Erie, Winter Festival of Lights also received an FEO achievement award for best volunteer program.

Each of the Niagara festivals being recognized this year has also made the list for several years running.

Submissions for the awards were received from FEO members in the fall and judged by an independent panel of judges in late November. Awards were handed out Saturday during the FEO's annual conference in Richmond Hill.

Wellander charged in knife-point robbery

A 32-year-old Wellander man has been arrested in connection with a Niagara Falls robbery in which a woman was held at knife-point after visiting a bank Sunday afternoon.

Niagara Regional Police said the 55-year-old Falls woman had driven to a bank near Lundy's Lane and Dorchester Rd. When she returned to her car a man got in from the passenger door.

Police said he pointed a knife at her and demanded cash. After complying with his demand, the man ran to another vehicle and drove off. Police were called about 2:45 p.m.

The woman suffered a minor injury during the robbery but did not require medical attention, police said.

Todd Mayer is charged with robbery and failing to comply with a probation order.

Birds rescued from ice

Fort Erie SPCA
recovers more than a dozen birds frozen in Lake Erie ice

Tuesday morning.
"We have people who are trying to spot the birds. They go down there and gently splash a little warm water and loosen their feathers," Trombley said.
Once the animals have been recovered, they are taken to the SPCA for a few hours to warm up before they are released back into the wild.

"We try to bring them to the SPCA so the animals can get their bearings and warm up a bit," Trombley said.

The manager of the SPCA said people should call the SPCA if they spot a bird that is frozen in the ice.

"Sometimes it's hard to tell (if an animal is trapped) because they're just sitting there," Trombley said.
"We don't recommend anyone going out onto the ice," she added.

sarah.ferguson@sunmedia.ca

More than a dozen birds frozen in Lake Erie ice have been rescued by the Fort Erie SPCA.

"We've been receiving calls in the last month on and off of birds becoming frozen in the ice and we're out looking now for animals that have become stuck to the ice," said Wendy Trombley, manager at the Fort Erie SPCA.

"This is not a common occurrence and it's happening now because it has been really cold," she said.

The SPCA rescued 11 birds in February which included ducks and a swan. Three birds have been rescued since the beginning of March, including one

HARRY ROSETTANI Special to The Times

Mark Dickson, of the Fort Erie SPCA, points to a duck that became stuck to the ice on Lake Erie. The SPCA has rescued more than a dozen birds last month that stopped on Lake Erie and became stuck to the ice. One duck was rescued Tuesday morning. If residents witness an animal that become frozen to the ice, they are asked to keep off the ice and report it to the SPCA.

SARAH FERGUSON Fort Erie Times

Children and teens librarian Laura Martin encourages youth to visit the Fort Erie Public Library when the Canadian Raptor Conservancy comes to the library on March 11.

Library offers variety of March Break activities

Sarah Ferguson
Fort Erie Times

When the excitement of a break from school wears off and the boredom sets in, there's plenty of activities to entertain children during March Break.

The Fort Erie Public Library's list of activities kicks off on Friday at the Centennial branch at 2 p.m., with a viewing of Frozen, a story about a girl named Anna who teams up with Kristoff on an epic journey, which includes encountering a funny snowman named Olaf.

Children and teens librarian Laura Martin encourages youth to visit the library to see what it has to offer.

"There's a lot of fun stuff to do and it's great because children can do it on their own time and parents don't have to worry what their kids are up to," Martin said.

"We have something for everything," she added.

This year, Martin said she is excited about the visit from the Canadian Raptor Conservancy.

Raptors of all shapes and sizes will fly around the library, children a chance to see them up close on March 11 at 10:30 at the Crystal Ridge branch and 2 p.m. at the Centennial branch.

Martin said one of the most entertaining events is the stuffed animal sleeper, which will be held on March 11 at the Crystal Ridge branch at 6 p.m.

Children are invited with their favourite stuffed animals for a bedtime story and craft. Afterward, the children will go home and leave their friends behind for a sleep over. Martin said library staff will tuck in the stuffed animals.

"We take pictures and we see what the stuffed animals are up to when their friends aren't there," Martin said.

There is a small fee for most activities and pre-registration is required for some activities. For a full list of events, visit the library's website at www.fepl.ca or call 905-871-2546.

The YMCA is offering day camps for children and youth. Camps are available for children from ages three to 12 at the Fort Erie YMCA. For more information call 905-871-9622.

Public skating will be held March 10 to 15 from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Fort Erie Leisureplex. Admission is $1.50 per person.

The Crystal Ridge Arena is offering public skating on March 7 and 14 from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. for $2.50 per person or March 8, 11, 13 and 16th from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. for $1.50 per person.

Falcons lead Meteors 2-0 in seven game series

COLLIN STACHURA Special to The Times

Fort Erie Meteors Richard De Marco sets up the one timer only to have St. Catharines Falcons goaltender Knick Dawe dive back for the glove save, adding to his second shutout of the series and handing the Meteors their second loss in the seven-game series against St. Catharines, 6-0 at the Leisureplex Saturday night. The Falcons lead the Meteors in the seven game series 2-0. The Meteors hit the ice Tuesday night but the results were not available before press time. Visit www.forterietimes.ca for up-to-date game information for the Meteors' playoff results.

Who will be selected for Fort Erie Time's 1st Annual Volunteer Recognition Awards?

We're extremely proud of the contributions volunteers make to our community. We all know many of these often unsung heroes who add so much to the quality of life in Greater Fort Erie - let's put their names forward for official recognition by The Fort Erie Times and its Readers and the Citizens of Greater Fort Erie in a special section in the Fort Erie Times during National Volunteer Week. Simply complete the nomination form, submitting the volunteer's name in one of the following categories:

- | | | |
|---------------------------------|--------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1. Work with Seniors | 6. Education | 10. Work with Needy or Disabled |
| 2. Work with Youth | 7. Sports and Recreation | 11. Volunteers under 21 |
| 3. Historical Contribution | 8. Safety | 12. Community Events |
| 4. Cultural (Arts, Music, etc.) | 9. Service Clubs | |
| 5. Protecting the Environment | | |

In addition to the 12 categories listed, if you wish to submit a new category for recognition please submit the category and we will give it consideration to be added to the list. All names submitted must include a letter of supporting information stating why your nominee should win. Nominations will be gathered by the Fort Erie Times to be forwarded to the selection committee. One volunteer in each category will be selected to be honoured by the Fort Erie Times at a special ceremony and will be profiled in the Fort Erie Times during National Volunteer Week.

Job Description: Market Supervisor

Market Supervisor Compensation Position
(Market is open: May 10, 2014 to October 11, 2014... 7:30 am to 12:30 pm)

Work with the dynamic team consisting of the Festival & Event coordinator and event supervisors under the management of the Ridgeway Business Improvement Area Executive Board. Be a part of the truly amazing team and gain incredible event, sales, marketing, small business and project management experience.

We value your energetic, highly organized, and professional acumen and look forward to the opportunity to be involved with the turnkey setup and logistics for the operation of the Ridgeway Farmers' Market.

The position requires you to assist & liaise with the Festival and Event Coordinator with the overall planning and coordination for the upcoming market season as seen.

Administrative Support to Coordinator

- Execute initial phone calls to existing and potential market vendors
- Assist with approval process of new vendors: our mandate is to grow the market to its potential and have lots of choices and varieties in all product lines
- Meet with the Town rep & RBIA rep to obtain keys and all pertinent info relating to water & hydro supply
- Obtain "binder" from the coordinator to properly supervise running the market
- Supply coordinator with any and all correspondence you have with the vendors, the Board of Health and/or any visitors to the market
- Report via email to the RBIA secretary 24 hours in advance of the first Tuesday of every month for anything related to the market for the board meeting, attend a meeting if requested by the board

On site Duties

- Arrive at market at 6:30 am with binder
- Hook up water hose and check hydro supply
- Greet vendors & ensure all vendors are aware of designated "park at your own risk" areas
- Ensure setup is accomplished in a timely fashion in vendor designated area
- Work out any challenges and notify Coordinator or RBIA rep of any action required
- Spot check vendors for all Health & Safety procedures as required
- Manage your time on site between your booth (if applicable) and the needs of the vendors
- Do a walk through at 10:00 am to assure there are no challenges
- 12:30 pm make sure all vendors clean up their stall and all garbage is bagged and taken with them.
- Walk through after vendors are gone and record any infractions and by whom, make a point of speaking to them prior to the next market day.
- Provide assistance and the binder to the Board of Health inspector whenever they are on site and answer any questions they may have. Write a quick report of the visit and pass to coordinator

Qualifications

Experiences in business, communications, or event management
2-3 years of relevant experience in sales, venue coordination, event logistics, or staffing coordination Capable computer skills, especially in Excel, Microsoft Word, Internet and Outlook
Solid references
Excellent attendance
Excellent ability to pay attention to details
Proven customer service/client experience
Ability to multi-task
Extremely organized
Great personal skills
Ability to work as a team, as well as individually

Compensation: This position has a monetary compensation of $2000.00. It is not an hourly or weekly paid job. There is no overtime or extra pay and meetings are included in the compensation.

You can request payment monthly or in 3 or 4 lump sums between March 15 and October 1, 2014 by submitting an invoice to the treasurer of the RBIA, Karen Malton. RBIA will not pay out the full amount before October 1, 2014.

Please provide your complete name and mailing address for payment. Cheques will be mailed directly to your home from the town.

FELL, Paul -

In loving memory of a dear husband, father and poppy who passed away one year ago on March 11, 2013.

If tears could build a stairway
And memories a lane
We would walk right up to heaven
And bring you back again.
Our hearts still ache with sadness
And secret tears still flow
What it meant to love you
No one will ever know.
No matter how our life changes,
No matter what we do
A special place within our hearts
Will always belong to you.

Loved and missed by your wife,
child and grandchildren.

Patsy Sumblar

In loving memory of a dear wife,
who passed away March 9, 2013

Her loving face I hope to see again,
Though the days have passed away;
Sleep on dear wife, and take your rest
They miss you most who loved you best.

Love Gerry

Patsy Sumblar

In loving memory of Patsy,
who passed away March 9, 2013.

Every day, in some small way,
Memories of you come our way.
Though absent, you are ever near.
Still missed, still loved, and ever dear.

Forever in our hearts,
Ryan, Lisa, Dana Doli, & Ailaine
